

HANG UPS

Emergency services are inundated with calls that they terminate because they appear to be pranks or non-emergencies. Stuff about aliens and werewolves. That kind of thing.

That's where Hang Ups comes in.

They're an independent (and not technically legal) group that intercepts these abandoned calls and sifts through them for seeds of truth. With their knowledge of the paranormal, they respond to potentially legitimate calls that the authorities ignore.